Now afore God, this reuerend holy Frier,
All our whole Citie is much bound to him.
Iu. Nurse, will you goe with me into my Closet,
To helpe me sort such needfull ornaments,
As you thinke fit to furnish me to morrow?
Mo. No not till Thursday, there is time inough.
Fa. Go Nurse, go with her, weele to Church to morrow.
Exeunt.

Mo. VVe shall be short in our prouision,
Tis now neare night.
Fa. Tush, I will stirre about,
And all things shall be well, I warrant thee wife:
Go thou to Iuliet, helpe to decke vp her,
Ile not to bed to night, let me alone:
Ile play the huswife for this once, what ho?
They are all forth, well I will walke my selfe
to Countie Paris, to prepare vp him
Against to morrow, my heart is wondrous light,
Since this same wayward Gyrle is so reclaimd.
Exit.

Enter Iuliet and Nurse.
Iu. I those attires are best, but gentle Nurse
I pray thee leaue me to my selfe to night;
For I haue need of many orysons,
To moue the heauens to smile vpon my state,
VVhich wel thou knowest, is crosse and ful of sin.
Enter Mother.
Mo. VVhat are you busie ho? need you my help?
Iu. No Madam, we haue culd such necessaries
As are behoofefull for our state to morrow:
So please you, let me now be left alone,
And let the Nurse this night sit vp with you,
For I am sure, you haue your hands full all,
In this so sudden businesse.
Mo. Good night.
Get thee to bed and rest, for thou hast need.
Exeunt. Iu. Farewell,

Iu. Farewell, God knowes when we shall meete againe.
I haue a faint cold feare thrills through my veines,
That almost freezes vp the heate of life:
Ile call them backe againe to comfort me.
Nurse, what should she do here?
My dismall Sceane I needs must act alone.
Come Viall, what if this mixture do not worke at all?
Shall I be married then to morrow morning?
No, no, this shall forbid it, lie thou there,
VVhat if it be a poyson which the Frier
Subtilly hath ministred, to haue me dead,
Least in this marriage he should be dishonourd,
Because he married me before to Romeo?
I feare it is, and yet me thinks it should not,
For he hath still beene tried a holy man.
How if when I am laid into the Tombe,
I wake before the time that Romeo
Come to redeeme me, theres a fearefull point:
Shall I not then be stiffled in the Vault?
To whose foule mouth no healthsome ayre breaths in,
And there die strangled ere my Romeo comes.
Or if I liue, is it not very like,
The horrible conceit of death and night,
Together with the terror of the place,
As in a Vaulte, an ancient receptacle,
VVhere for these many hundred yeeres the bones
Of all my buried Auncestors are packt,
VVhere bloody Tybalt yet but greene in earth,
Lies festring in his shrowd, where as they say,
At some houres in the night, spirits resort:
Alacke, alacke, is it not like that I
So early waking, what with loathsome smels,
And shrikes like mandrakes torne out of the earth,
That liuing mortalls hearing them run mad:
O if I walke, shall I not be distraught,
Inuironed with all these hidious feares,
